Foreword

ISO (the International Organization for Standardization) is a worldwide federation of national standards bodies (ISO member bodies). The work of preparing International Standards is normally carried out through ISO technical committees. Each member body interested in a subject for which a technical committee has been established has the right to be represented on that committee. International organizations, governmental and non-governmental, in liaison with ISO, also take part in the work. ISO collaborates closely with the International Electrotechnical Commission (IEC) on all matters of electrotechnical standardization.

International Standards are drafted in accordance with the rules given in the ISO/IEC Directives, Part 2.

The main task of technical committees is to prepare International Standards. Draft International Standards adopted by the technical committees are circulated to the member bodies for voting. Publication as an International Standard requires approval by at least 75 % of the member bodies casting a vote.

Attention is drawn to the possibility that some of the elements of this document may be the subject of patent rights. ISO shall not be held responsible for identifying any or all such patent rights.

Amendment 1 to ISO 11161:2007 was prepared by Technical Committee ISO/TC 199, Safety of machinery.

Safety of machinery — Integrated manufacturing systems — Basic requirements —

AMENDMENT 1

Conformant with ISO Guide 78¹⁾, this Amendment supports regional technical regulations for machinery safety according to the principles of UNECE Recommendation L²⁾. It comprises minor technical changes to the existing International Standard, aimed at ensuring compliance of the current edition of ISO 11161 with the relevant Essential Requirements of New Approach Directive 2006/42/EC on machinery, which replaces New Approach Directive 98/37/EC and enters into force on 2009-12-29 without a transition period.

IMPORTANT — This Amendment does not specify any technical change not directly required as consequence of the new European legislation.

Page vi, Introduction

Update the reference to ISO 14121 in the fifth paragraph by replacing it with “ISO 14121-1”.

Add the following:

ISO 12100-2:2003/Amd.1:2009, Safety of machinery — Basic concepts, general principles for design — Part 2: Technical principles — Amendment 1

Replace the reference to ISO 14121 with the following:

ISO 14121-1:2007, Safety of machinery — Risk assessment — Part 1: Principles
